The screenshot shows a web browser window with a single tab titled "login page". The address bar shows the file path "C:/Users/pc%20solution/Desktop/lab1/Untitled-3.html". The page content is a login form with the title "LOGIN FORM". It contains two input fields: one for "Email:" with the placeholder "username" and one for "Password:" with the placeholder "Enter your password". Both fields are marked as required. A "login" button is positioned to the right of the password field.
